

The average person tells three lies in ten minutes of conversation...

Lie to me*

SERIES PREMIERE
JAN 21 WED 9/8c

*The truth is written all over our faces.

DR. CAL LIGHTMAN (Tim Roth, "Reservoir Dogs") can detect the truth by analyzing a person's face, body, voice and speech. When someone shrugs his shoulder, rotates his hand or raises his lower lip, Lightman knows he's lying. By analyzing facial expressions, he can read feelings – from hidden resentment to sexual attraction to jealousy. Lightman heads a team of experts who assist federal law enforcement, government agencies and local police with their most difficult cases.

DR. GILLIAN FOSTER (Kelli Williams, "The Practice") is a gifted psychologist and Lightman's professional partner who brings balance to the partnership by looking at the bigger picture while Lightman focuses on the details.

RIA TORRES (Monica Raymund, "Law and Order: SVU") is the newest member of the agency, and one of the few "naturals" in the field of deception detection. She has a raw, untrained ability to read people that makes her a force to be reckoned with.

ELI LOKER (Brendan Hines, TERMINATOR) is Lightman's lead researcher, who is so uncomfortable with the human tendency to lie that he's decided to practice what he calls "radical honesty." He says everything on his mind at all times and often pays the price.

* In a study done in Australia, 73% of doctors said they washed hands, but only 9% did

* 37% of adults think it is often/sometimes okay to lie about one's age

* 65% of adults think it is often/sometimes okay to lie to avoid hurting someone's feelings

* 40% of adults think it is often/sometimes okay for a parent to lie to a child about the parent's past misbehavior

* 81% of us tell "white lies" every day.

* 68% of women lie about their weight on their driver's license

Toronto - T 416.593.6556 F 416.593.1551 Montréal - T 514.525.1133 F 514.525.1355 Vancouver - T 604.605.2977 F 604.605.2944